

STYLISTS OF TOMORROW

(published in the Richmond Review, December 1, 2007)

The Hugh Boyd Hair Academy held its grand opening gala yesterday. With two groups of students in place, the academy is running full time and is fully operational. The Richmond School District Hair Design program is a two-year program hosted at Hugh Boyd. In this program, students such as Olivia Chow, Angela Von Drathen and Brittany Hamel (left to right) learn the basic fundamentals of hair design and esthetics. The academy is open to the public.
